The Closing Date is November 20, 1990

ALL COINS AND ANTIQUITIES
GUARANTEED GENUINE

WE STILL CHARGE
NO BUYERS FEES

VISA MASTERCARD AMERICAN EXPRESS

Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on November 20, 1990.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, November 20, 1990.

If you are ever in the area, stop in and see us! Of course, it's best to call first.

ANTIQUITIES

SOUTH ITALIAN POTTERY

635.	APULIAN RED-FIGURE PROCHOUS; 400 BC. Repaired, well-painted. Depicts seated Eros holding patera. 7 1/2" height	2000
636.	APULIAN HIGH-HANDLE OINOCHOE; 320 BC. Attractive shape with applied white and yellow. Intact. 11" height	2000
637.	APULIAN RED-FIGURE COLUMN KRATER; 370-350 BC. Attributed by Prof. A. D. Trendall to the "Long Overfalls" painter. 18" height	18000
	Description: Reserved bands at foot. Double row of dots and line near rim. Black-figure wave pattern at lip on top surface. Two black-figure palmettes on top surface of handle attachments. Black figure ivy is in reserved panel on neck. Frames for pictures on obverse and reverse are formed with tongue pattern on shoulder meander and crossed square band below, and double rows of dots to the left and right. Pictures: The combat scene is highly unusual and lively. The warrior is in the process of shifting his weight and is about to make a sweeping charge towards the native. The native holds a spear in his right hand, and a shield in the other. The pierced shield is visibly bent from another spear, now broken. A gorgon is depicted on his shield. The obverse scene portrays three standing youths wearing Chlamys, one facing right, two facing left, and holding staffs. Above them is a pair of halteres, (weights held by athletes). Column repaired, crack and restored hole near base.

This exquisite relief represents the goddess Hathor, who is wearing the great horns and solar disk. Hathor, the cow goddess, like Aphrodite for the Greeks, was the goddess of love, and had numerous cult centers (among them were Memphis and Dendera). This carved-in sunk relief is typical of this dynastic period. Upon viewing the almond-shaped eye and overall features, one would immediately recognize the similarity in Greek art, especially with the Kouros figures of the Archaic Period. These figures strongly resemble the great Pharaohic figures of the middle kingdoms of Egypt.

This wonderful miniature, which we offer today, could easily be fitted with an Athenian helmet, instead of the horn and solar disk of Hathor, and be the image on one of the finest Athenian tetradrachms. If you own this relief, you would be in the possession of not only a great piece of Egyptian art, but also the prototype of the rarest and most desirable forms of Greek art.

PALMYRENE WOMAN

Early 3rd Century AD

759. Palmyra was a celebrated city of Syria which stood as an oasis in the earliest times as a halting place for the caravans between Syria and Mesopotamia. Here, Solomon built a city, which was called in Hebrew, Tadmor - "City of Palm Trees". Under Hadrian and The Antonines, it was highly favored and reached its greatest splendor. Palmyrene statues wear Oriental, Parthian garments, and the arches of their eyebrows are hollow, in keeping with the Assyrian sculptural tradition. The composition and, above all, the elements of decoration are modelled on the traditional ornaments of Greek and Roman Art.

This sculpture of a Palmyrene lady is a draped portrait, with her right hand on her breast and the other holding her veil. She wears a jeweled clasp on her shoulder and a necklace with a crescent-mooned pendant.

Stripes of mineral deposits of a darker color enhance the limestone, with one line in particular across the left side of her face. Save the most minor flake off the tip of her nose, this piece is in pristine condition.

19" height, 14 3/4" width 11500
